

Review of Bill Ralph's Lecture

I simply wanted to underscore what I said on Wednesday evening, that your presentation was absolutely wonderful, quite the best I have seen, and I have introduced and thanked many speakers over my many years at the library. I gave you a five-star review to my manager, who, I believe, relayed that to Administration.

You were informed and informative, entertaining, 'interactive', and just plain a delight all round. I heard from other staff members in adjacent rooms, that they heard the laughter, and wondered what the program was, so I have certainly done my best to play up your presentation.

I have introduced and moderated so many of these programs over the years, and I know when we have a corker. You were one!
